Russ Take Giurgiu On Bulgar Frontier

LONDON (CP) — Russian troops today captured Giurgiu on the Bulgarian border, 40 miles south of Bucharest, Moscow announced tonight in a broadcast communiqué.

In this drive southward to the banks of the Danube Soviet forces also took Keverashi and more than 100 other populated places.

Giurgiu is directly across the Danube from Bulgaria's important river port of Ruse (Rus-huk).

The Russians also made advances in two other directions as they fanned out over Romania, capturing more than 60 localities west and south of Ploesti.

San Fliers From U.S.

Finns Prepare to Break With Nazis

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Reliable reports tonight said the Finnish government had under consideration the breaking of relations with Germany "within the next two or three days" as a preliminary step to negotiations for an armistice with Moscow.

The German legation here has been preparing to receive Nazi diplomatic personnel from Helsinki, it was learned.

Not Negotiating

126 U.S. Airmen reed In Romania

U.S. 15th AIR FORCE HEADQUARTERS, Italy (AP) — Of the more than 3,000 U.S. airmen shot down over the Ploesti oilfields and interned in Romania during last year, 1,126 have been liberated and safely evacuated to Italian soil.

They were brought from Bucharest to an air base in southern Italy in a fleet of 38 flying fortresses, which were hounded by enemy fighters coming and going.

D.R., Churchill to Meet In Quebec?

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt, fighting victory in Europe in the near future, will meet soon—probably this month, it was learned today.

The purpose will be to plan the overall strategy for shifting the battle to the task of crushing Japan—similar to the meeting of August, 1943, when the master plan for the invasion of France was approved.

This may be followed after Germany's final surrender by another session, this time including Stalin, to discuss Russia's role in the Pacific war, along with Europe's future.

World League Needs Force, Says Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Pius XII in a broadcast on the 15th anniversary of the war's outbreak called today for a peace founded on Christian principles, and acknowledged use of force may be necessary to preserve world peace.

He defended the rights of private property, while asserting the conditions of the masses could be bettered.

Russians Swing From Bucharest Towards Serbia

By DANIEL DE LUCE

MOSCOW (AP) — Red Army flying columns, skirting the southern shoulder of the Transylvanian Alps after marching triumphantly through Bucharest, headed today in the direction of Serbia's northeastern mountains, where Marshal Tito's Partisans are battling the common enemy.

A junction between Soviet and Yugoslav Partisan forces became a prospect of the near future, as Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky's armored scouts approached within 120 miles of the Yugoslav-Romanian frontier.

The German command was reported trying to organize a new defence line along the Ol River, which runs within 75 miles of Serbian territory.

A vital north-south railway parallels the west bank of the Ol, connecting Sibiu—one of Transylvania's leading cities—with the Wallachian Danube port of Corabia, across the stream from Bucharest.

AT TURNU PASS

Malinovsky threatened to cut this waterline at the southern entrance to Turnu Pass, whose possession would safeguard his right wing while he drove across the Danube plain to make contact with Tito.

The Soviet leader's forces, which paraded past the rubble of German-bombed buildings in Bucharest Thursday, drove rapidly westward along the Bucharest-Craiova railway.

Front dispatches said the Germans were still in disorderly flight up the Danube valley.

SEE RUSS POWER

Bucharest's war-weary population saw Malinovsky bare the mechanical power of his army. Huge self-propelled guns, assault and thickly armored tanks, and a seemingly endless stream of motorized infantry crossed the city from end to end.

A Red Star correspondent, Alexander Krivitsky, wrote proudly from Bucharest: "Not a single one of our fighters walked in the capital's streets. They all were in trucks. This was a real triumph."

He added Romanians had told him: "You have so many tanks you need a hundred Ploesti oil fields to supply you."

ALONG FRONTIER

On the Black Sea coast south of Constanta, Gen. Feodor I. Tolbukhin's patrols ranged along the Romanian-Bulgarian frontiers, but the bulk of his 3rd Ukrainian Army was hastening on westward for a joint sweep up the Danube with Malinovsky's forces.

Meanwhile, on the northern end of the long front, the first definite offensive success in the Warsaw sector in over a week put the Russians less than 12 miles north of the old Polish capital.

It was still too early to say whether the Russians would be able to sustain their attack in this sector.

Boersen Zeitung Quits

LONDON (CP-Reuters) — The Berliner Boersen Zeitung, formerly the organ of the German general staff, has ceased publication for the duration of the war, the German D.N.B. agency said.

It will be merged with the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung from today.

Bag 166 Nazis

ROME (AP) — At least 157 enemy planes were destroyed on the ground and nine shot down in aerial combat in the past two days by U.S. 15th Air Force light bombers during strafing attacks on three Romanian airbases, Mediterranean Allied Air Forces headquarters announced today.

Germans Abandon South France Army As Yanks Near Lyon

By NOLAND NORGAARD

ROME (AP) — Sharp attacks by tanks and infantry crumbled Nazi rearguard resistance in the upper Rhone valley of southern France today and the Germans fled northwest at top speed with the pursuing Allies less than 50 miles from the great city of Lyon.

Valence, 55 miles south of Lyon, fell at noon Thursday, Lt. Gen. Patch's headquarters said. Le Bourg du Pease, 11 miles to the northwest, capitulated earlier to U.S. troops closing in from the east.

Apparently despairing of ever getting their 19th Army out of southern France as an intact fighting unit, the Nazi command has ordered its units "to return to Germany by their own resources," an official report said.

Such an order was given by artillery personnel in the Nimes area, prisoners related.

DRIVE TO SPAIN BORDER

From Narbonne a French flying column, in a sweep around southern France's Mediterranean coast, was reported thrusting to the Spanish border after pushing through Montpellier, Beziers and Narbonne—60 miles from the frontier—without meeting enemy resistance.

Other French units were well beyond Ales, 38 miles west-northwest of Avignon.

The 7th Army command declared the situation remained "unchanged" on the Riviera, following occupation of Nice by U.S. troops.

In the Alpine regions along the French-Italian frontier farther north, however, the Americans entered the village of Condamine Chatelet, which the Germans had burned in reprisal for patriot activities.

On the west side of the Rhone French elements were mopping up scattered enemy pockets in Pont St. Esprit, Bourg St. Andeol, Vallon and Barjac. All of these towns were overrun or bypassed in the earlier pursuit of the retreating Germans.

NAZI GARRISONS QUIT

Meanwhile the Allied naval command off the south coast of France announced the German garrison on the islands of Rationeau and Pomeragues off Marseille had surrendered unconditionally to the captain of a U.S. navy cruiser Aug. 29.

A report from Lt. Gen. Patch's headquarters quoted the captured Gen. Otto Richter, commander of the 198th Infantry Division, as saying "the 19th Army is undertaking to extricate itself from southeast France by any means possible."

Roads along which the U.S. and French troops were pursuing the Nazis gave eloquent testimony that "any means" were expensive. Booty in abandoned trucks, guns and supplies which littered the routes was mounting steadily.

Only minor air operations over southern France were reported by the Mediterranean Allied Air Forces, but Thunderbolts began battering rail lines in northwestern Italy near the French border, apparently intent on isolating Nazi forces who are nervously guarding the area.

Word Expected Yank Troops Entered Reich

By JAMES M. LONG

ALLIED SUPREME HEADQUARTERS (AP) — The U.S. 3rd Army swept through and beyond the French fortress city of Verdun today in a landslide offensive which if continued at its present pace promised to carry over into an invasion of Germany's frontier before nightfall.

U.S. troops also rolled up to or across the Belgian border today. The Berlin radio heard in London said today two groups of six to eight U.S. divisions each were pushing on from Verdun and already were overrunning the Lorraine basin, annexed by Germany in 1940 and considered by Berlin a part of the Reich itself.

Metz was within artillery range of the advancing Americans, the broadcast said.

The Americans, after seizing Verdun and smashing across the Meuse, were within less than 50 miles of the Reich itself.

Units of the 3rd U.S. Army have captured St. Mihiel.

(The NBC recorded a BBC broadcast today saying reports from advanced correspondents in the Verdun sector placed U.S. forces only 25 miles from the German border.)

Moving so swiftly that official information here lagged far behind developments, a mighty army formed by the U.S. 3rd and 1st Armies also swept to or across the border of Belgium in the vicinity of Sedan.

Verdun fell Thursday to 3rd Army troops who had advanced 65 miles from Reims in less than 24 hours.

Another column, advancing from St. Dizier, captured Commercy, on the Meuse River 10 miles south of famed St. Mihiel and 28 miles west of Nancy.

Front dispatches Thursday night said U.S. 1st Army forces had penetrated Sedan, five miles from Belgium.

Everywhere the Germans were in full flight for the dubious safety of their homeland fort lines.

"The battle of France is all but over," wrote Associated Press war correspondent William Smith White. "What is developing now is the beginning of the battle for Germany."

Partisans at Zagreb

LONDON (CP) — Marshal Tito's Partisan troops are operating at the gates of Zagreb and capturing that capital of the puppet Croat state is expected shortly, according to a broadcast today from the free Yugoslav radio. The radio said Tito forces continued their successful attacks although Bulgarian occupation forces were still putting up resistance.

New Swordfish Leader

LONDON (CP) — Wing Cmdr. L. H. Lecomte of Acton Vale, Que., has been appointed to command the Swordfish Squadron of the Canadian bomber group, R.C.A.F. overseas headquarters announced today.

Lecomte is succeeded in command of the Alouette Squadron by Wing Cmdr. Hugh Ledoux of Montreal, who made his first operational trip Thursday with the Alouettes.

Now ours—Dieppe.

Bulgar Government Topples On Failing To Win Easy Peace

LONDON (CP) — The Bulgarian government of Ivan Bagrianov fell today shortly after its failure to win an easy way out of the war by pleading neutrality and amid indications of far-reaching internal developments within the Balkan kingdom.

Simultaneously it was disclosed the European advisory commission had drafted armistice terms for Bulgaria—a demonstration of British-U.S.-Russian solidarity on the terms which the Balkan satellite must meet to get out of the conflict.

Russian armies were pushing along the country's northern frontier, ready to send tank columns across her northern plains.

A Cairo dispatch said peace talks with Bulgarian emissaries were progressing favorably.

At the same time rumors spread throughout Europe that Hungary was trying to get into contact with the Allies on armistice terms.

With Romania already out of the Axis line-up and negotiating in Moscow for terms on which she might join the Allies as a co-belligerent, Hitler's southeastern front thus appeared to be falling apart in three countries.

Berlin immediately launched a campaign of denials to contradict the rumors Hungary was seeking a way out, but Budapest itself was silent. Reports reaching London from Turkey said Hungarians there had intimated Budapest was seeking terms.

The Allied terms for Bulgaria were kept secret, inasmuch as they involve military operations, but it was regarded as certain one condition would demand the withdrawal of all her troops to within her prewar borders and the return to Greece and Yugoslavia of Macedonia and Thrace, territories which she gained in a bargain with Hitler in 1941.

Removal of all Fascist elements from the Bulgarian government was likely to be another condition.

Bulgaria closed her border with Turkey as the Red Army massed on her frontier in Romania. D.N.B., official German news agency, then said in a Berlin broadcast today that Bagrianov had announced resignation of his cabinet. He took office June 1.

Meanwhile, Ankara advices to Cairo said today 194 German soldiers surrendered voluntarily to Turkish authorities at the Greek frontier, and were interned.

Indications were that German forces in Greece were being thinned in a reshuffle to cover railways into the occupied kingdom. This was one result of Bulgaria's armistice talks. The Germans, apparently, were drawing troops up to lines which would be threatened by Bulgaria's withdrawal.

Nazis Entering 6th Year of War Face Hopeless Military Situation

By Associated Press

On the fifth anniversary of the Second Great War today a German military spokesman speaking over the Berlin radio described the German situation in northern France as "hopeless for the time being."

Of the two big Allied bulges in the Aachen and Meuse areas, the spokesman compared the plight of the Germans now with their "hopeless" situation four weeks ago which he claimed had been "mastered."

An NBC reporter, Bjorn Bjornson, speaking from Stockholm today, said the Germans may evacuate Denmark and Norway without a fight.

Already large troop movements are reported and German language papers such as the Neues Wiener Tagblatt are no more speaking of Fortress Europe, he said. "They have changed already to Fortress Germany."

NOT INTIMIDATING SWISS

The hopelessness of the Nazi army's position in Italy today was indicated in a Stockholm dispatch which said that in political circles it was understood the Germans had asked neutral Switzerland what its reaction would be if part of Marshal Kesselring's armies in Italy withdrew into Switzerland. These sources said Switzerland gave an unfavorable reply.

Virtually the only communications left open to German armies in Italy are through the much-bombed and frequently disrupted Brenner Pass route, and via Swiss railroads. Switzerland recently permitted transit of seriously wounded German troops and medical personnel from southern France.

The anniversary found British-U.S.-Canadian armies in the west and the Russian army in the east.

AT NAZI SPRINGBOARDS

Allied forces approaching Sedan are almost back to the spot where the Germans launched their drive into Belgium. More than a month ago the Russians reached the point where Hitler launched his attack on them.

Thus a major portion of Hitler's land gains in the last five years have been neutralized, and the broken and defeated German armies are scrambling back into the borders of the Reich.

The darkest gloom prevails inside Germany—in contrast to the jubilation of Sept. 1, 1939.

Stursberg Reports Massacre By Germans In French Alps

Peter Stursberg, Victoria newsman, now CBC war correspondent in France, in a cable describes a trip to Vercors in the French Alps with a British army officer, where they were told of mass executions in surrounding villages by the Germans.

He said French patriots who guided them, said it was a "strange mistake involving Canadian troops that the Maquis lost Vercors plateau—their mountain headquarters, which they had held for two years against three German divisions."

"When Nazi gliders landed on the airstrip which they had built for Allied planes, the people cried 'here come the Canadian commandos.' Thus the Germans were able to consolidate themselves on the ground without a shot being fired, and were able to drive the Maquis from the plateau."

The patriots, Stursberg said, were unable to explain "this mistaken identity," except that they had been told Canadians would come to their support.

The Nazis also ransacked all the little villages and burned down homes. The little village of Vassieux was blown up and burned, and the civilian population slaughtered.

"Out of 300 inhabitants, only 30 remained alive," Stursberg said.

Same Regiments Re-enter City As Aug. 19, 1942

By CHARLES LYNCH

WITH THE 1ST CANADIAN ARMY IN FRANCE (CP-Reuters) — Canadians have captured Dieppe without fighting.

Canadian units which lost so heavily at Dieppe two years ago, today rode into the city from the south without firing a shot.

They were the Essex Scottish, the Royal Hamilton Light Infantry and the Royal Regiment of Canada, all units of the Canadian 2nd Division.

Meanwhile British troops have reached Arras, a Reuters cable from France said tonight. Arras is 39 miles from the frontier of Belgium.

While Dieppe was being captured, other Canadian troops reached the Channel at Le Treport, 14 miles east of Dieppe, and Belgian troops driving on Le Havre were two miles east of the port.

Two other Canadian armored elements were three miles southwest of Abbeville, where they had practically linked up with British forces driving on the city.

ENTERED AT NOON

Canadian reconnaissance troops entered Dieppe at noon and were followed closely by infantry units for whom Dieppe has such terrible memories.

They drove through the streets where Aug. 19, 1942, their comrades were mowed down.

Nearing the city at this moment are the Toronto Scottish and two Dieppe units—the South Saskatchewan Regiment and the Black Watch (Royal Highland Regiment), Montreal.

The people of Dieppe roared a welcome to the Canadians and covered their vehicles with flowers.

The city itself is not badly damaged, although the Germans, who are believed to have pulled out Thursday night, carried out considerable demolition and put all the public utilities out of commission.

The troops driving on Dieppe took some prisoners, but these were the only Germans encountered in the dash from Rouen to the Channel coast.

POLES WITH CANADIANS

Polish units with the Canadians are heading in the direction of Abbeville.

Nowhere along the whole broad front is there any organized German resistance, and the speed of the advance is only limited by the speed at which the vehicles can move. Belgian, British and Canadian troops are ranging all over Le Havre Peninsula, picking up prisoners wherever they find them.

Great sections of the Nazis' "Atlantic Wall" are falling into the bag, together with flying bomb sites.

8th Army Punches Outer Gothic Line

ROME (AP) — British 8th Army troops have broken through the outer Gothic Line defence in northern Italy to a depth of 1,000 yards at one point, but are meeting strong German resistance north of the Foglia River, where the Nazis have hurled in tanks in repeated counterattacks. Allied headquarters announced today.

The 1,000-yard penetration was made west of Borgo Santa Maria, where the stronghold of Montecchio was captured. Tank-supported infantry followed through and established themselves among the Nazi defences.

In Pesaro steady fighting was reported continuing between British and Polish troops and the German 1st Parachute Division—their old enemies of Cassino.

(Dispatches from Rome Thursday declaring Polish troops had captured Pesaro apparently were premature.)

Chinese, Japs Battle South of Hengyang

CHUNGKING (AP)—The Chinese high command indicated today Japanese forces had made considerable progress in their attempt to trap crack Chinese forces threatening the key city of Hengyang from the southwest.

An army spokesman said the new Japanese drive was aimed against Chinese forces astride the Hunan-Kwangsi railway southwest of Hengyang.

Employing four columns, the Japanese apparently were trying to envelop the Chinese by hammering a wedge westward from Lieyang and southward from points northwest of Hengyang.

The Japanese captured Hengyang Aug. 8. Meanwhile, in Hupeh Province severe fighting was raging in the Yangtze port of Ichang and on the outskirts of Tangyang, 27 miles to the northeast.

Formosa Raided

NEW YORK (AP)—The Tokyo radio announced today more than 10 U.S. Liberators and medium bombers Thursday attacked Japanese-held Formosa off the east China coast and acknowledged some damage to ground installations.

Rum Order 500 Tons

LONDON (CP-Reuters)—Britons' mouths water today with the news that the importation of 500 tons of rum had been sanctioned by the Ministry of Food. The Rum Importers' Association was given permission to import the equivalent of about 1,200,000 bottles to replenish Britain's sadly depleted stocks of rum—and of all liquor, for that matter. This is the first rum imported since 1940.

Lions Club Will Press For West Coast Road

Appointment of a committee of the Lions Club to interest other service clubs in presenting a program to the provincial government for construction of the Alberni-Victoria West Coast Road, as a postwar rehabilitation project, was urged by E. L. Tait at the club's luncheon Thursday.

Mr. Tait will present the motion to an executive meeting of the club, and it will be brought before the next regular luncheon meeting. Ernest Emery, chairman in the absence of Dr. Cliff Carl, president, promised immediate action on Mr. Tait's suggestion.

"The Alberni-Victoria West Coast Road is bound up irrevocably with the future of Victoria," Mr. Tait told the members as he introduced R. S. Gallop, guest speaker at the luncheon, "who told of the material resources that lie along the coast road area."

Mr. Gallop said that the road would pass through an area of over-ripe virgin timber that should be harvested now, and added that the timber was growing in an area which would reforest faster than any other part of British Columbia. He recommended manufacturing the timber on the ground, which would give employment to many men for an indefinite period.

"There are only 20 miles of road to build from Jordan River to Port Renfrew, and we have been promised it for 35 years," he said, outlining the settlement as well as material resources' possibilities of the area.

He described the 25-mile-long San Juan Valley and said there were opportunities for a large settlement there. He felt that just as after the last war, a great number of people will want to come to the coast, and said that of a number of families settled in a valley in the Kootenays after the last war, not one stayed. They all came to the coast, he claimed.

"Besides the timber and land, there is a mile-long ocean beach, free from wind, and five miles back from the beach are the Sooke range of mountains, on top of which are natural golf courses," Mr. Gallop said.

"There is gold along the coast from Sooke to Port Renfrew," he continued, telling of large deposits of magnetite iron and of gold, silver and lead claims.

Merriman Round-up ...

FRANK LOWE, writing from London about the exodus of women and children because of buzz bombs, says the newly-created city of bachelors was for a time a dream come true for many long-married men. It meant freedom to stay out as long as they liked, to spend long congenial hours drinking at the club and no questions asked. Soon, however, they began to discover they had to take solid as well as liquid nourishment, cook, clean stoves, pots, pans, make beds, sweep, pay the gas bill, collect the laundry and do a thousand other things that previously had never occurred to the master of the house. Then the dream-come-true did not seem so bright. You often hear them say now: "You know, I never knew before how hard women had to work."

ONE OF the jobs of the Allies now is to supply Paris with food. Already they have arranged for a fleet of 3,000 trucks to carry foodstuffs into the city. The present need has been estimated at 75,000 tons a month. The proposed Permanent Food and Agricultural Organization will free the world from hunger seeks an annual budget of $5,000,000 for the first five years, the United States to bear 25 per cent, the United Kingdom 15 per cent, and other countries smaller proportions down to 8 per cent.

VIVIEN LEIGH is working in the new George Bernard Shaw movie which Gabriel Pascal is producing. Pascal showed her the long schedule required for this important film. Miss Leigh laughed, and when Pascal asked: "What's so funny?" she made no reply. Last week, long after the filming had started, Pascal again mentioned the long schedule, and again Miss Leigh laughed. "What's so funny about a Shaw picture having a long production schedule?" Pascal asked her. "You'd better make it shorter," explained Miss Leigh, "because I'm having a baby."

No German Plans Over France Battle

LONDON (CP)—British four-engined Halifax bombers battered German long-range weapon supply depots in northern France today without loss while U.S. medium bombers assaulted German strongpoints in besieged Brittany at the port of Brest.

The attack on the Brittany targets was made at the request of Lt. Gen. Bradley, whose troops then began an all-out assault to free the prized Atlantic harbor of elements of three enemy divisions.

This attack on gun positions, motor parks and two forts on the edge of Brest was only one of numerous operations by Allied planes based in Britain and France as the return of good flying weather enabled them to bomb and strafe the foe at many points.

British and U.S. fighters and fighter bombers ranged over Holland and Belgium and northern France, bombing and shooting up rail yards, trains, canal locks and barges.

The airmen had the skies to themselves as they have had since the Allied advance enveloped enemy airfields in the Paris area. Not even a German reconnaissance plane has been seen in recent days.

Because of this complete air superiority, Allied supply vehicles moving up behind the swiftly advancing armor have been observed traveling bumper to bumper at many places.

1,200 U.S. Workers Quit Making Shells

BUFFALO (AP)—About 1,200 workers of the American Can and Foundry Company's Buffalo plant remained away from their jobs today, halting production of large shells for the army and navy.

About 600 day-shift workers, members of Local 2551, United Steelworkers of America (C.I.O.), walked out Thursday "for unknown reasons," the company said. They were joined by most night-shift workers.

Joseph T. McNichols, district director of the union, who has termed the stoppage "unauthorized," said union officers "have been trying for three weeks to settle the unrest among the workers, which the management created by arbitrary and dictatorial methods of penalizing them after absences from work."

Robombs Sent Now Only From Northern Sites

LONDON (CP)—With dozens of flying bomb launching sites already reported in the hands of the Canadian and British armies sweeping up the French coast, only a few robots were loosed against Britain Thursday night.

As usual, some of the bombs fell in the London area, but damage was not widespread.

Dispatches from France, meanwhile, declared that in addition to the robot launching sites already captured, it is expected that at least 100 more will be seized by the Allies between Le Havre and the Somme.

It was noticeable throughout Thursday the sporadic robot attacks on Britain came from the most northerly sites so far used—in extreme northern France or Belgium.

A dispatch from Rouen describing a launching platform recently captured there said it consisted of two iron rails about 12 feet apart and 200 feet long, mounted on ties. The track was sunk about two feet below the ground. The robots apparently ran along the track on some sort of carriage and out through an opening in the trees.

French villagers said at least one of the bombs dispatched from this site landed in a field only a mile away, and they believed that many others never got across the Channel.

Spirit of Injustice Dying Out, Says Pope

LONDON (AP)—Pope Pius XII, speaking over the Vatican City radio, said tonight "on this fifth anniversary of the war, the spirit of injustice is dying out."

"This barbaric world is going to end and a new world of humanity and Christianity is to be created," the Pontiff continued.

"The new world must be one of social justice and fraternity of all the human family," the Pope said. "After so many years of uncertainty, humanity expects of the world a better social order. This social reform must be based on Divine justice."

The address was recorded by the Associated Press.

Adrian Arcand Only 'Big Name' Internee Now

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL
OTTAWA (CP)—Adrian Arcand, leader of the National Unity Party, is the only "big name" internee left in Canadian camps now that Camilleen Houde, former mayor of Montreal, has been released, a justice department official said today.

Arcand, who headed his Fascist organization until 1940, when he and its leading members were interned, was known in many parts of Canada because of the publicity his party attracted in prewar years, the official said.

However, Arcand and the handful of his followers still in internment were not nearly as widely known as Mr. Houde, who was released two weeks ago, or as the Francheschini brothers—James and Leonard—members of the wealthy Italian contracting family in Toronto. They were released in 1941.

The justice department's policy is to liberate the civilian internees only after a thorough investigation has shown they no longer are likely to be a danger to the state.

Justice department officials said they had no recent reports on how Nazi elements were reacting to the continued German setbacks.

"I think it is safe to bet your boots, though, that any cockiness they might have had has sunk as fast as the German hopes for victory," said one official.

3rd Seattle Woman Slain In Four Days

SEATTLE (AP)—Third woman slain hereabouts in the past four days, Mrs. Marguerite G. Anderson, about 45, was bludgeoned to death in her bed Thursday night.

The tragedy was discovered by her 14-year-old son, George, in the wildly-disordered chamber. Detective Capt. Marshall C. Scafford said the boy told him, tearfully, his mother had been drinking heavily for several days. He said he had heard no disturbance during the night.

CANADIANS TAKE DIEPPE

EVER SINCE THE LANDING OF CANADIAN troops on the Normandy beaches nearly three months ago the people of this country have waited with profound interest for one special piece of news. It came over the cables this morning. It was brief but potent:

"The Canadians have captured Dieppe without fighting."

This takes us back to an August day in 1942—an adventure that stirred the imagination of us all, an adventure destined to lead to much controversy, an adventure whose wisdom and usefulness must await the verdict of the historian. The main concern of the moment is that this vital strategic point on the French coast is now in Canadian hands. Its capture will have experienced a sense of high elation. Many of them doubtless will pause for a moment's reflection on the events of that other seemingly far-off day—remembering the price paid by so many of their countrymen to discover what lay behind Hitler's much-vaunted Atlantic wall.

Regardless of the wisdom or otherwise of that curtain-raiser to the eventual opening of a western battlefield, nothing in the annals of Canadian military history surpasses the magnitude of the service the men from the land of the Maple Leaf rendered to the cause of the United Nations on that memorable day.

Canadians everywhere will salute their boys on their latest achievement. And the lack of opposition, of course, is attributable to the earlier victories which Canadians helped to score round the pivotal Normandy area of Caen.

TELLING GERMANS THE TRUTH

GERMAN PROPAGANDA IN THE MAIN is obviously intended to deceive. Most of it is clumsy and falls in its purpose. But General Kurt Dittmar for some weeks past has told the people of the Reich some truths. To be sure, some of this military spokesman's bitter pills occasionally are garnished with a little doubtful "jam." On the whole, however, his broadcasts have made no bones about the situation now facing his compatriots.

And it is not surprising that the sheer force of events is obliging this authoritative military spokesman to vary his radio fare. He seems to be trying to persuade the United Nations that they would be much better off in the long run, saving many precious lives, if only they would substitute "an attitude of reason and understanding" for the Casablanca dictum of "Unconditional Surrender." It would be insulting his intelligence to assume that he really believes a new note will change the internal score. Germans are not good at cajolery.

This departure in the Dittmar technique is not important in itself. There is no ambiguity in the design of the Allied campaign—either in the west, the east, or in the south. These offensives are the preliminaries to the battle for Germany. Hitler's intuition has certainly kept him informed on this simple truth. But another military spokesman today has let the cat out of the bag. He used the Berlin radio to state the fact that the Nazi military situation in northern France is "hopeless for the time being." But the "jam" for this morsel has a fermented taste. He compared the plight of the Germans in the Allied bulges in the Ardennes and Meuse areas with their "hopeless" situation four weeks ago—which "had been mastered."

The unconscious humor in this, of course, is typically Teutonic. How the befuddled and utterly disillusioned populace of the Reich will regard it on the opening day of the sixth year of war is highly conjectural. And since there is little hope of the high command in Berlin allowing an "attitude of reason and understanding" to permeate its collective mind, 80,000,000 Germans, if they are wise, will try to find some way of driving the idea into the fanatical Nazi skull.

NO TIME FOR NONSENSE

JUDGED BY THE COMMENTS OF Allied statesmen and the stern faces of the men who are devoting their time and talents to the erection of an international structure that will prevent future wars, the announcement of final victory over the Axis will find a world in an extremely sober mood—with a realization that winning the peace, too, will be a testing time immeasurably more exacting than anything in history.

Anyone who remembers Nov. 11, 1918, here in Victoria and elsewhere remembers that it was a day of jubilation. But we venture to predict that even if the Allied leaders have any definite concept of what form the next armistice will take—whether marking the end of organized resistance, or the signal for the beginning of a protracted battle with a Hitlerian underground movement—it will find us in a different mood. Armistice Day in 1918, for all the undertone of sorrow and all the lives lost, was something like a football victory. There were bands and noisemakers and confetti and dancing in the streets. But we are likely to view the next Armistice Day as one that marks the passing of a crisis in a long and serious illness and the beginning of a protracted convalescence.

Twenty-six years ago the fight was won. Hohenzollernism had bitten the dust; never was its like to rise again—or so we thought. Only the very cynical or the very far-seeing doubted that. Verily the war to end war had itself ended. Today we can already envision the tremendous job that lies behind the peace—problems of frightening magnitude all over the world. And these problems are problems for Canadians, for Victorians, to contemplate with ordered thought and stern resolve. Far removed from the actual scene of conflict as we have been, we cannot escape the backwash. And it is well that we know how sick the world has become, and how contagious that sickness can be. Perhaps knowing that will enable us to help nurse it back to real health this time—even though the colossal nature of the task leaves no time or inclination for dancing in the streets next Armistice Day.

In any event, our city fathers, while making all appropriate arrangements for thanksgiving exercises, should realize by this time that returning warriors will want, to know how their future has been considered, what preparations are in being for their absorption into the warp and woof of civilian life. Men and women doffing the uniform will not be interested in how quickly the pressing of a button started City Hall-designed celebrations. They will be looking for some signs of local progress—for a long-overdue manifestation of practical vision and civic pride. In the name of reality let us keep our feet on the ground.

TURKEY'S 'FRIENDLY RUPTURE'

RUSSIA'S SEMI-OFFICIAL NEWSPAPER Pravda has accused Turkey of harboring German spies and describes her recent severance of diplomatic relations with the Reich as nothing more than a "friendly rupture." Twenty days after their scheduled time for departure, the Moscow journal asserts, Nazi commercial, military, aviation and diplomatic attaches were still in Ankara. The significance of the article in which the charge is made is reflected by the fact that Pravda's foreign news page devoted more than two columns to its discussion.

Troops of the Soviet Union today are closer to the strategic Dardanelles than on any occasion since the first Great War. Reference to this fact by Pravda does not mean that "the Straits question" of the 19th century is about to flare up with a 1944 implication. But it is highly probable the history books which 85 per cent of the Russian people are now able to read and understand include a full account of Peter the Great's original policy of southward expansion—energetically furthered by his successors. Ever since his death, moreover, his country's aspirations have been for an ice-free sea—a free outlet from the Black Sea to the Mediterranean for her military and mercantile marine. Since the original attainment of that object presupposed the destruction of Ottoman power in Europe, and the acquisition of Constantinople, the Mediterranean powers, collaborating with old Turkey, frustrated it.

The end of the first Great War, of course, produced a defeated Turkey and a Russia in a state of internal chaos. But the Straits Convention of 1923 actually imposed a settlement answering to Russia's traditional ambition. The emergence of a new Nationalist state at Ankara, however, was the prelude to a modification of its provisions—and Turkey became the virtual controller of this vital waterway. Eight years ago last July her plan to remilitarize the previously demilitarized zones took shape. How Turkish authority has operated since the outbreak of war is a part of the conflict's history.

The point about Pravda's article, therefore, regardless of how seriously the Soviet government intends Turkey to take it, is that it brings new emphasis to an ancient aspiration—plus the gentle inference that present-day Russia has a very clear concept of the role she intends to play in the post-war world. It would be a thousand pities if relations between Moscow and Ankara became strained. And it was Mr. Churchill who hoped that Turkey would find more than "standing room" at the peace settlement; she has not yet earned a seat.

LONDONER'S VIEW

THE TRANS-ATLANTIC EDITION OF the London Daily Mail carries the answer of its New York correspondent to a question frequently put to him on his return to London: "How does Britain at war strike you as compared with America at war?" Here is the answer: "There is no comparison. The American civilians—all of them, not just those with big bankrolls—are living a life hardly distinguishable from peacetime existence. There are mountains of food and acres of clothing for everyone. Rationing is the merest pinprick."

"There are plenty of luxuries. More money is being made by the entertainment, catering and clothing industries than ever before. The war is remote. Almost, it does not exist in a physical sense. Psychologically it is close—for remember there are 10,000,000 Americans or more in uniform, and their relatives belong to nearly every home in America."

Exaggerated, would you say? asks a well-known American columnist, who answers his own question thus: "Not to a man who has seen wartime London—just the daily living, not the blitz and the robots. It might be well if we would try to look at ourselves now and then through a Londoner's eyes—we who gripe and grouse and grieve and strike." To add anything to that would be superfluous.

It has been suggested that Germany be cut into three pieces after the war. When our air forces get through they may have to put it back into three pieces.

Loose Ends

FOR FIVE-CENT COFFEE

By Austin F. Cross of the Ottawa Citizen

What this town needs most is a good five-cent cup of coffee. Things haven't been the same since by the royal fiat of Price Czar Gordon, they upped the price of the precious bean fluid 100 per cent to 10 cents. You can say what you like, but there are certain things that are important in people's lives, and a five-cent cup of coffee is one of them.

You take a group of boys, let them sit around in their ordinary clothes, and they are as happy and chummy as they can be. Doll them up in boiled shirts and black suits, send them to a swank banquet, and they act like so many bumpkins. They are stiff, stilted, and stupid. It's the same way since they jumped the Java with us oldsters. We won't seem to be the same guys when we sit down to a 10-cent, a la carte, cup of coffee. We are so formal you would think we were a lot of Axis diplomats trying to be nice to each other. The coffee doesn't taste the same either. We feel like saying to it: "Take off that disguise; we knew you when you only cost a nickel."

What impels us to write strongly on the matter is the fact that the Americans have returned to the status quo, which means five cents for coffee. We are therefore strongly urging Donald Gordon, head of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, to re-acquaint himself with the facts of life, and find out what's going on across the line in the matter of five-cent coffee. Personally, we don't see how Mr. Gordon will be able to hold his position if he continues for long his 10-cent coffee policy. The onslaughts of a million-dollar corporation he might withstand; the sniping of business Canada he might survive. But if the ordinary citizen gets his dander up enough over five-cent coffee, it's curtains for Gordon.

One final word, and this to Mackenzie King. There might be a lot of votes in five-cent coffee.

HOW TO KEEP GOOD MEN OUT OF PARLIAMENT

From Winnipeg Tribune

During the session of Parliament just closed the question of taxing members' indemnities was discussed. It was pointed out that under present tax schedules the $4,000 indemnity was reduced to about $2,800.

In the difficult days ahead Canada needs the ablest men possible in Parliament. The present indemnity paid members may be a definite hindrance to such men coming forward for public office. Some of them simply cannot afford to do so.

A member of Parliament is expected to live in Ottawa for a good portion of the year while maintaining his usual domicile in his own constituency. While in the capital his living expenses are necessarily high. It has now reached the point where only a man of independent means or one in a profession which does not clash with his parliamentary duties can get by without worry and inconvenience.

This is all wrong. Keeping an able man out of Parliament on financial grounds is discriminatory and certainly not in the best interests of Parliament or Canada.

Members' indemnities have never been princely in this country and, at the moment, border on the niggardly. When the question comes up for discussion in the House consideration should be given not only to income tax relief but to raising the amount. It should be sufficient to allow a member to be financially independent of any other source of income, whether from part time employment or private means.

The Tribune's Ottawa correspondent tells of able young men now members who state they will not run for Parliament in the next election because they cannot afford to maintain the position.

Obviously the whole question of the amount of members' indemnities should be reviewed.

FOR PRIVATE ENTERPRISE

From Printed Word

John Curtin, Prime Minister of Australia, states that the Australian Labor Party expects private enterprise to carry on the economic life of Australia after the war.

David Lewis, national secretary of the C.C.F., when he found himself embarrassed by the wild talk of Mr. Winch, promised that the C.C.F. would not be a revolutionary party, because it has the same platform as the Australian Labor Party.

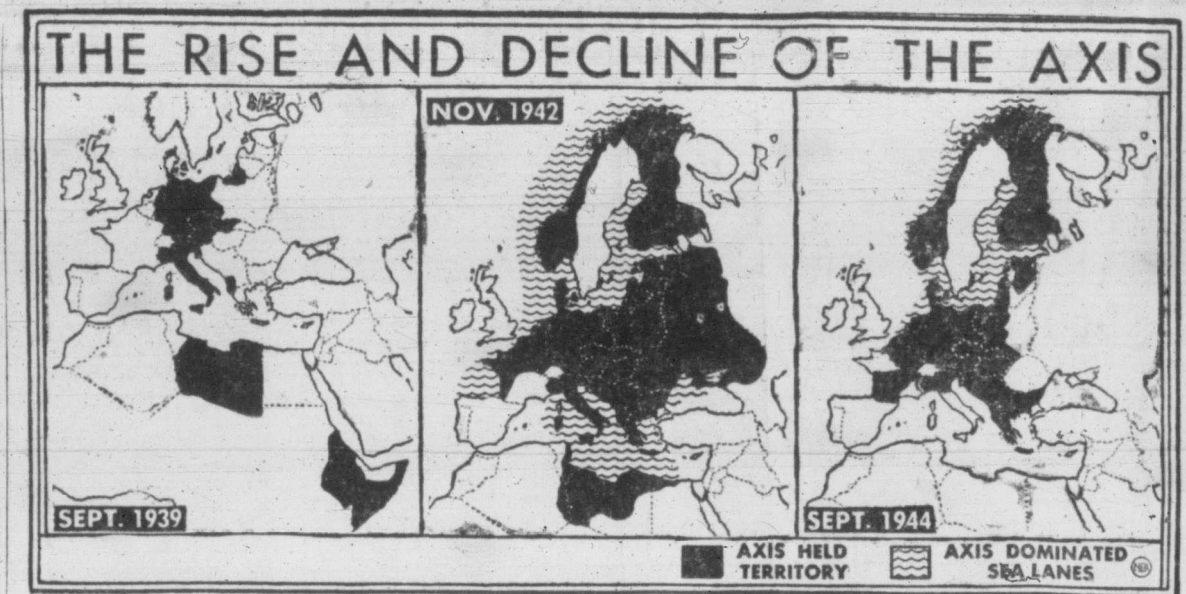

If Mr. Lewis was right on that point, then it must be clear that all those who are promising that the C.C.F. will strike heavy blows at private enterprise in Canada are of different opinion.

What we need to know is whether Mr. Lewis meant what he said. Is the C.C.F. going to revolutionize conditions in Canada by striking at private enterprise, or does it intend to follow the pattern set by Mr. Curtin in Australia? The C.C.F. looks like talking itself into some very bad holes.

SYMBOL OF HUMANITY

From Toronto Globe and Mail

Don't overlook the service being provided by the good ship Gripsholm in repatriating war's victims. She brings to suffering individuals escape from long periods of misery as prisoners of a heartless enemy. Her passengers may be a pitiful lot, but she is carrying them home, and even in crowded conditions, their health and spirits improve. The Gripsholm may not be class as a palatial liner, nor is she a combatant ship, but because of her missions of mercy, she is one of the most interesting vessels traveling the ocean routes.

Hitler's world is changing swiftly. On the fifth anniversary of World War II, his boundary lines are contracting daily. First map, at left, shows the areas held by the Axis at the start of the war in September, 1939. At the peak of his power, in November, 1942, darkened areas in centre map show how far beyond the German borders Axis might had spread. Now, map at right shows the dwindling Nazi empire as Allied forces press Hitler's "superman" back to the borders of his tottering Fortress Europe.

Today's WAR NEWS Analysis

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Associated Press War Analyst
Recapture of ancient fortress town of Verdun, immortalized by the heroic Allied stand in the First Great War, is a fitting memento to hand Hitler on this fifth anniversary of his war against humanity.

We shall not forget late May of 1940.

DUNKERQUE DAYS

Hitler's troops, arrogant from conquest and sure in their own minds of mastering the world, swept into the Somme Valley and closed the great steel trap which they had flung about hundreds of thousands of British, Belgian and French soldiers. Amiens, Abbeville and other strategic Somme towns fell to the Boche.

It was the prelude to Dunkerque, to the Belgian king's surrender, to the collapse of France. Out of Hitler's thundering blitzkrieg toward the Somme valley was born the do-or-die British government under Prime Minister Churchill.

Finally via the route of "blood, tears and sweat" the Allies have arrived back at the historic spot where the Nazi dictator thought he had placed the mark of bondage on the brow of mankind. They also stand in Verdun, only 50 miles from the border of the Reich. The disorganized Hitlerite armies of the west, crippled by 400,000 casualties since D-Day, are on the run.

HITLER WHINES

It's an interesting commentary on bullies that the already beaten Hitler is whining and trying to finagle a compromise peace. He wants a deal that will save his skin and enable Germany to prepare for another conflict.

Because the peoples of the United Nations have determined to outlaw war, widespread satisfaction is being expressed over renewed assurances from State Secretary Hull that there will be no alteration in the Allied demand for unconditional surrender. A lot of folk have been worried for fear the aggressor nations might escape just punishment.

THIS WAR—1 YEARS AGO

Sept. 1, 1940—British ship taking 320 children and other passengers to Canada reported torpedoed Aug. 30; all saved except purser. Romanians protested surrender of Transylvania to Hungary. President Roosevelt summoned 60,000 national guardsmen to one year's military service.

GONE TOO FAR

I will be very much surprised if the Luftwaffe stages a comeback—they have gone too far.—Air Chief Marshal Sir Trafford Leigh Mallory.

COMPRESSED AIR FATAL

From Aluminum Company Press

Some dangerous practices still persist in the plant—seemingly because some people do not realize the danger. One in particular is the use of air hose to clean off clothing while it is worn. Many accidents have been caused that way. Every once in a while the air blast pierces the skin—a price. It is strange, but true. Nearly every case of air being introduced into the body proves fatal.

Make-Up Used In Pictures Is Study In Color Blending

By DOROTHY LEIGH-SPENCER

Make-up is a science and a study, and there are not two people who can use the exact shade. There are many types of coloring and each type requires the correct shade in make-up. This reporter felt very compe-tent about her lipstick and other make-up when she got into a discussion with Sam Pollo, make-up man for the M-G-M film, "Son of Lassie," which is being filmed in the Victoria district. Mr. Pollo says that as soon as he sees a person he looks first at the make-up and then remembers the name. He has been with the film business for more than 20 years and has made up many famous stars such as Norma Shearer and Frederic March in "Smiling Through." Greta Garbo in some of her pictures, and the cast in "Rose Marie." He also worked with many of the stars during the silent pictures.

IN TECHNICOLOR

When asked about his make-up work in this technicolor picture here, he said his biggest trouble was to conceal the sunburns which the actors acquired in the bright sun and wind at Christo-pher Point. Many had peeling noses and foreheads and still others whose noses called for short-cropped heads turned up with the tops of their heads were much like baked apples that had started to crack. All these little troubles had to be remedied by the make-up man.

Technicolor pictures do not take as much make-up as the black and white ones, and the general idea is to have the actor look as natural as possible.

Mr. Pollo is surprised at the amount of lipstick worn by Cana-dian girls. "He can't under-stand how they can wear little rouge and a great streak of lip stick which is so bright that when first seeing a person one is struck by the red lips. He says so many people do not follow the contours of the mouth and the result is rather peculiar.

Parishioners Honor Father J. B. Jullion

A large number of parishioners of Queen of Peace Church at-tended a social to pay tribute to their pastor, Father J. B. Jullion, who is leaving to take over duties at Mount St. Mary.

The affair, under the direction of the Catholic Women's League, was presided over by Joshua Smith, who presented Father Jullion with an address and a sum of money for those present.

G. R. Guillemard spoke in French and Mrs. Arthur Smith, on behalf of the C.W.L., made a presentation. Father Jullion re-plied both in French and Eng-lish.

A musical program was ar-ranged and directed by Bill Ed-ington and included numbers by Mrs. Betty Malenfant, Miss Kay McIntosh, A. Hudson, Mrs. A. Smith, Misses Lois Brain and Patricia O'Brien and Bill Ed-ington.

An honored guest was Sqdn. Ldr. Jack McDonald, D.S.O., D.F.C., who was presented with a leather writing case by the C.W.L.

Mrs. O'Leary convened refresh-ments.

PRESENTS FLANNELETTE

Mayo Singh has presented 225 yards of flannelette to the So-larum W.A., it was reported at the last meeting. Mrs. J. Bay-liss presiding. The next meet-ing will be Sept. 6.

SHADOWS IN COLORING

Eye shadow is used to give the eyes a deep-set look and the color used on the upper lid is a dark maroon.

The greens and blacks of earlier days are out, but are still used by many. Only a person's make-up. In a well-groomed person the rouge lipstick and finger-nails should all harmonize. There are many angles to this job, he said, and going from street make-up to picture make-up we find that mustaches and beards are also in his work. When Clark Gable went into picture, Mr. Pollo put on his first mustache which he has worn ever since and now has grown one of his own.

PICTURE MAKE-UP

In "Son of Lassie" the star, Peter Lawford, has his mustache put on and off every day and each time it had to match exactly with the day before. Peter also had to have a two-day growth of beard which must be kept clipped to the exact length each day.

On the whole pancake make-up is used with the most gratifying results but there are still a few where the old-time grease paint is the best. This make-up has to be changed more often and under the heat of the lights it tends to cake. The texture of the skin is the main guide to make-up of all types. There is the trans-parent type olive texture, and very dark skin. One of Mr. Pollo's big jobs was the making-up of Charles Laughton in his many character parts. In the more recent pictures he has made were the actors in "Thirty Sec-onds Over Tokyo."

Prior to working with make-up Mr. Pollo had a famous tragedy: act in which he was the catcher. In other words, the main stay in the act. He has been with the picture business for many years in various jobs and is now consid-ered one of the M-G-M's leading, make-up men.

Red Cross Benefits From Art Exhibit

Colorinfested mountains and the whirling activity of local ship-yards will highlight a number of oil paintings and water colors by Mrs. Ina D. D. Uthoff, F.R.S.A., when her exhibition of paintings will be shown to the public at Spencer's art gallery.

Hon. Mark Kearley will declare the exhibit open at 3 Saturday and the display will continue until Sept. 14. Admission and 10 per-cent of the sales will be donated to the Canadian Red Cross.

Mrs. Uthoff recently went to the shipyards for inspiration. Painting girl welders, she reports, was no easy task. Dangers from the blinding flash of the welder's torch made possible, only slight sketch book notes. Other effects had to be memorized. This ver-satile artist found the assembly yard an interesting subject, with the groups of welders and over-seers assembling the ship's plates.

Heaving weather that often grounds every machine except the mercy craft in which she is flying, Nursing Sister Joyce Greenwood of Burnside Road, Victoria, has carried the true meaning of her profession into action along the bleak Labrador coast. The nursing sisters of this R.C.A.F. station, Goose Bay, Labrador, are often called to aid isolated civilians in addition to attending the sick and injured service personnel. The young Eskimo boy in the picture is Norman Hublo, three year, who was badly burned when a gas stove exploded in the family tent on the bleak shores of Baffin Land. Without medical attention, the boy would have died or have been horribly crippled. After being rushed to the R.C.A.F. hospital, Norman underwent seven operations in a year. He will return to family shortly. On these emergency calls a nursing sister is usually flown to the scene by Flt. Lt. "Al" Cheeseman, colorful bush pilot of Port Arthur, Ont. She carries with her all the necessities for an emergency, including blood plasma. If the patient's condition is serious, he is usually brought back by air and treated in the R.C.A.F. base hospital.

The situation—An old person shares the home of a young couple.

Wrong way—Don't bother to have the old person come out and meet guests, feeling that because of age differences they'll have nothing in common.

Right way—See that the old person meets guests—even though he retires to his room in a few minutes. (Old people shouldn't be shoved out of the way or ignored simply because a couple are afraid their friends might be bored with his conversation).

ITALIAN CITY HAS TRAVELED 14 MILES FROM ADRIATIC SEA

There is a riddle which goes like this:

"What sea would you like to be on if a downpour of rain took place?"

The answer is "Adriatic," that is "a-dry-atic."

The Adriatic used to have a name meaning "bitter sea." Very likely this name was given to it because the water is more salty than that of the Mediterranean Sea.

It has been suggested, however, that the name may have come from bitter warfare which has taken place there.

Many persons have wondered about the long delay of Allied armies in crossing the Adriatic to help Marshal Tito's soldiers in Yugoslavia. This delay may be explained in part by the high cliffs which line much of the eastern coast. There is no first-rate port in Yugoslavia or Albania, and there are only a few ports which can be graded as second or third rate.

A town or city called Adria was on the western coast of the Adriatic many hundred of years ago. Today that city is 14 miles from the shore!

Adria has a population of 16,000. It has not been moved, but the Po River has put land between it and the sea. Mud and silt are carried to the Adriatic by the Po, and are dumped at the mouth. In this way it builds up a delta, just as does the Mississippi or the Nile. Only a few yards, or rods, may be added to the length of the delta each year, but in a century there is quite a difference.

Only two important rivers flow into the Adriatic, and these two are close together in northern Italy. One of these is the Po, the other is the Adige.

The Adriatic Sea is about the same size as Lake Superior and Lake Huron together. On its shores the largest and most famous city is Venice. Venice had a population of 620,000 when the last census was taken.

NAGGING WIFE

Dear Miss Dix—My wife is so slovenly about her person and the way she keeps the house that I have lost all affection for her. Also she bosses the life out of me. She times my every move. I am allowed 45 minutes to go and come from work, and I have to show up on the dot, although I have eight miles to go. I am not permitted to stop on the way for a cup of coffee with the other fellows. I have to turn over my whole pay envelope to her, and she only gives me 50 cents a week to spend. I have one night a week off, and that night I am compelled to visit her family. I have no choice about anything I do.

I have two children to whom I am devoted and for their sake I have stood all of this but I feel I cannot bear it any longer. What can I do to loosen the ball and chain?

HENPECKED HUSBAND.

Answer—Join the army. When you are surrounded by hundreds of other soldiers you will, at least, have protection from your female Hitler. And perhaps the discipline of war will strengthen your backbone enough to make you defy your tyrant when you get back home.

Certainly a man who has stood a henpecking wife for years has nothing to fear from the enemies' bullets.

SUMNER WELLES SPILLS IT

"The Time for Decision" by Sumner Welles, published by Harper's, New York.

FORMER U.S. Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles, running true to the form of most people who get eased out of a good thing, has written a book in which he tells all.

The Welles opus is a must for anyone who takes his foreign policy and the international situation seriously. But when or if you get all through the 414 pages you can ask yourself the question of just how much of a disservice Mr. Welles has done to himself and to his country by this contribution and the answer is, "Quite a lot." In fact, there are parts of this book which will make excellent Nazi propaganda and give considerable aid and comfort to the enemy.

There is, for instance, an elaborate scheme, with a two-page map, showing how this former diplomat thinks Germany should be partitioned into three separate states—Bavaria, Baden and the Rhineland in a southern state, Hanover, Westphalia and part of Saxony in a western state, Pomerania, Brandenburg, Silesia and the rest of Saxony in an eastern state. It is not hard to conjure the Nazi propagandists seizing upon this proposal and telling the German people, just to make them fight all the harder.

SPANISH CIVIL WAR NEUTRALITY

A second point in the Welles thesis which might conceivably embarrass his government is his bitter denunciation of U.S. policies toward Spain. Welles declares flatly that, "Of all our blind isolationist policies, the most disastrous was our attitude towards the Spanish Civil War." It is his opinion that the United States should have given aid to the Spanish republic in its fight against Franco instead of declaring strict neutrality. Welles claims that President Roosevelt was out of Washington when this policy was adopted and did not approve it. This is open to question as a matter of record and historical fact, as Roosevelt was in Washington, knew all about it and approved it.

The important thing, however, is that the government is now trying to win the Franco government away from Germany and over to the United Nations cause. Important negotiations with Spain concerning air rights and trade with Germany are now underway. To have Franco blasted at this time doesn't help.

A third knife which Welles throws is against the administration's policy of not recognizing the Argentine government now headed by General Farrell. This isn't news, for Welles has written pieces for the newspapers to this same effect. But to show how this stuff is seized upon and used as propaganda, it is only necessary to recall that the previous Welles article on this subject was ordered printed in all the Argentine press, giving encouragement to the revolutionary government of the Argentine to resist American demands that Axis agents be thrown out of the country and full co-operation given to the United Nations.

TRIP TO EUROPE IN 1940

Welles is at his best as a reporter—telling of his mission to Europe for the President in 1940. His plan for a postwar international organization to maintain peace differs from the Department of State's proposals, but that is of no importance as no two people can agree on how this should be set up.

It is in petty vindictiveness that Welles does himself least credit. President Roosevelt is never criticized, but the foreign policies of his Department of State, where they differ from the Welles policies, take a beating. Secretary of State Cordell Hull is mentioned by name only once and no other official of the Department of State is mentioned at all. Hull is given credit for his reciprocal trade program.

As a footnote to that, it should be recalled that four years ago Welles wrote the preface to Harold Hinton's biography of Cordell Hull. That preface was filled with praise.

About the row which led to Welles leaving the State Department, nothing is said at all.

"So Long, Son," by Howard Vincent O'Brien, published in Canada by Thomas Allen Ltd., Toronto.

IN HIS COLUMN in the Chicago Daily News, Mr. O'Brien expressed with the simplicity, dignity and restraint of great English, the emotions of a father whose son goes off to war and ultimately meets death. What he wrote has so admirably expressed with other parents, less gifted in words, would like to say, that his lines have been printed and reprinted in national publications, and been repeatedly used in broadcasts. Now they have been made available in permanent form between hard covers in a popularly priced book. It is one of those little volumes that will be read and re-read, that will be found in homes wherever the English language is used. It is one of the literary contributions that will outlast the war. It is little, but it has what goes to make for greatness.

Germany, in prewar days, was producing six times as much magnesium as the United States; in 1939 her production was approximately 36,000,000 pounds.

Tories Have Trouble Finding Strong Men for Candidates

As Greater Victoria Progressive Conservatives cast their eyes about today looking for candidates for the House of Commons, a new provincial political issue arose when it was learned that H. W. Herridge, M.L.A. for Trail, will have to resign his seat in the B.C. House before he can run for the Commons.

Mr. Herridge a few days ago was nominated C.C.F. candidate in Kootenay West federal riding. The Dominion Elections Act, listing those persons ineligible as federal candidates numbers among them "every person who is a member of the Legislature of any province—during the time he is such a member."

Kootenay West's returning officer would be unable to accept Mr. Herridge's nomination for Ottawa until he also sees his resignation from the B.C. Legislature.

A former vice-president of the B.C. Liberal Association, Mr. Herridge was elected C.C.F. member of the Legislature for Rossland-Trail at the provincial general election of 1941.

TWO BY-ELECTIONS

The coalition government will face a second by-election in New Westminster to fill the seat left vacant by the death in May of Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Lands and Municipal Affairs. So far the Speaker of the House has not been officially informed of Mr. Gray's death. Six months can elapse between this formality and the date of the by-election.

Mrs. Dorothy Steeves, M.L.A. for North Vancouver, is understood to be growing restless of provincial politics and would like a House of Commons seat. The C.C.F. powers-that-be, however, want Mrs. Steeves to remain in British Columbia, where they say, she can do the most good for the party. They are afraid she might be defeated in a federal contest and then would be lost to the party. They feel Mrs. Steeves should take no chances.

Vancouver Island Liberals and C.C.F.'ers are having no difficulty picking candidates for the coming Dominion election, date of which many observers expected Mr. King to announce in a few days, following bolstering of Liberal prospects by the New Brunswick election.

R. W. Mayhew, M.P. for Victoria, is almost certain to seek re-election. He returned from New Westminster, where he spoke at the renomination of Tom Reid.

Maj. Alan Chambers, M.P. for Nanaimo, cabled from overseas the other day that he is willing to again take the nomination. C.C.F. has picked its candidates for Victoria and Nanaimo, two of Vancouver Island's three federal seats. In Victoria the candidate is F.O. Murray Bryce, and in Nanaimo Dr. J. M. Thomas, principal of Saanich's Mount View High School.

Third Vancouver Island seat is Comox-Alberni, now represented by A. W. Neil, Independent, who says he will not run again.

WANT SOLDIER

Progressive Conservatives are not so happy, for powerful candidates of their political persuasion are scarce. They feel they would like a war veteran to carry their standard, especially in Nanaimo, to offset Maj. Chambers.

Unofficially a group of Conservatives were talking today of prospects for the election and mentioned the name of a well-known lieutenant-colonel as a possible candidate, who would give strength to the party. When questioned, the colonel, who is a native son of Victoria, veteran of two wars, and son of a former prominent Liberal, smiled and said he had never revealed any political affiliation and would likely support Mr. Mayhew.

Lt. Col. Macgregor Macintosh, also a veteran of two wars, and former M.L.A. for the Islands, is mentioned as a possible candidate in either Victoria or Nanaimo. Brig. J. Sutherland Brown is understood to be ready to take the nomination here, but the younger Conservatives are believed unwilling to try candidates that have been beaten.

NANAIMO VETERAN In Nanaimo constituency the Conservatives have their eyes on Lt. Col. R. B. Longridge, veteran of two wars and former first vice-president of the B.C. Command of the Canadian Legion, Col. Longridge lives in Duncan, in the centre of Nanaimo federal riding, which also includes Saanich.

In Vancouver Centre Conservatives are endeavoring to have as their candidate, in an effort to beat Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Lt. Col. C. C. Merritt, Canada's first Victoria Cross winner of this war, now a prisoner of war in Germany. There is believed nothing against having Col. Merritt run for office even while he is detained in Europe. Conservatives are of the opinion he should have a seat in the House of Commons and that it should be waiting for

City Ready to Give Lots for New Homes

Full sympathy with Victoria women now organizing in an effort to secure better housing facilities for servicemen's families was voiced by the city lands department Thursday as that group decided to seek council support for a housing aid scheme, Alderman T. W. Hawkins said today. The committee will suggest to him when he returns from war. Sydney Child, returning officer in Victoria, is going ahead with preliminary plans for the election, and is preparing a complete new list of voters, a gigantic task in view of the large number of new residents here since the last general election of March, 1940 the council Tuesday it offer federal authorities city property on terms similar to those given Wartime Housing if the Dominion government will bring a servicemen's housing plan into effect. The city would, according to the resolution, provide property at $1 a lot with a fixed charge of approximately $25 a year in lieu of taxation.

Action was taken following reading of a report on housing by Ald. Burgess Gadsden and an outline by Ald. Archie Wills of representations made to him by women campaigning for improved homes. The women, he said, were anxious to secure something better than attic suites and congested accommodation in which many families of service personnel are required to live at present.

Speaker Forecasts Far East Trade

Confidence that the countries of the Far East will be able to pay for any goods obtained from Canada if a reasonable time is allowed for their industries to be re-established, was expressed to Rotarians Thursday by E. Heybroek.

Mr. Heybroek operated a trading business in the Philippines for many years prior to the present war, and was in Victoria on holiday when the Japs attacked. Mr. Heybroek described how the sugar industry in the Dutch East Indies and the Philippines has been destroyed by the Japanese taking the machinery for scrap iron, and replanting the sugar fields in cotton. The gold mines are all shut down, he said, because the Japs have taken the machinery for the copper content in it.

However, he pointed out that copra from which valuable vegetable oils are obtained, will be ready for international market again as soon as the Japs are pushed out of the Dutch East Indies, and hemp will be ready in a short time. He also estimated that taploca and rubber could be used for trading purposes within a year or so after the cessation of hostilities, although it will take longer to get the sugar fields producing again.

The Far East, he said, would want to buy wheat, flinned fish, lumber and other products from Canada, as they did in the past.

Victoria to Discuss New Publicity Drive In Pacific Northwest

Victoria Chamber of Commerce will co-operate in any post-war campaign of advertising for the Pacific northwest, George I. Warren, the chamber's managing secretary, said today.

He was commenting on reports from Seattle that a fund of $1,000,000 is being gathered for advertising this part of the continent as a prelude to one of the greatest tourist invasions in history.

The proposal will be fully discussed at a meeting of the Pacific Northwest Trade Association in Bellingham Sept. 11 and 12, at which Mr. Warren and J. V. Johnson, immediate past president of the chamber, will be delegates.

"We're going to hear their proposal—they're going to ask us for money, but whether we give it or not we don't know yet," Mr. Warren said, adding that the chamber is in favor of any activity that will result in creation of funds to carry on publicity for this area.

WILLING TO HELP.
"We feel, however, that the Evergreen Playground Association, of which we are a member, should be closely consulted as to the distribution of the fund and in any advertising campaign," Mr. Warren said. "Twenty-two years of experience justifies this. We're with any organization that wants to further the interests of the northwest and we'll co-operate as far as possible."

The Seattle proposal is that $1,000,000 be raised in British Columbia, Washington and Oregon for an advertising campaign. S. W. Thurston, president of Western Hotels, Incorporated, has already offered $200,000 and William Edris, proprietor of the Olympic Hotel in Seattle, has offered $30,000.

S. S. McKee of Vancouver discussed this project with Mr. Edris in Seattle this week. After the meeting Mr. Edris said, "The Canadians are taking hold of this project with an eagerness and dispatch which pleases the local sponsors. We are a little unhappy that the four railroads serving Seattle have not as yet responded to our initial overtures and have not yet found time to get together and discuss the thing. But we hope in time they will see how tremendously important it is to them, and the area they serve that passenger traffic to Portland, Spokane, Tacoma and Seattle continues after the war in considerable volume."

Saanich Building Up $409,752

Building in Saanich for the first eight months of 1944 went well over that of the other two municipalities, showing an increase of $409,752 over the $133,688 total for the same period of 1943.

For 1944, 415 permits were issued for a total building value of $543,440, while 255 permits were issued for the same period in 1943.

Of those issued so far this year, 157 were for houses at a total building value of $499,450, while of those issued for the same period of 1943, 45 were for houses at a total building value of $56,990.

For August, 1944, 51 permits were issued for a total building value of $80,280, of which 14 were for dwellings at a total value of $49,900. For August, 1943, 35 permits were issued for a total building value of $41,220, of which 17 were for dwellings, a total value of $33,790.

In Oak Bay building increased $161,136 during the first eight months of 1944 compared with the first eight months of 1943.

For 1944 129 building permits were issued to the value of $304,866, and for the same period in 1943 only 81 permits were issued to the value of $143,710.

During this period 64 permits to build houses were issued for a total value of $288,343, and the average value per house is $4,508. In the first eight months of 1943 only 20 houses were erected, to a value of $72,050, with an average value per house of $3,602.

For the month of August permits to build four houses, with a total value of $20,850 were issued, compared to permits to build eight houses in August, 1943, with a value of $23,400.

Total number of building permits for all purposes in August of this year were 14, valued at $27,150, and in August there were 20 valued at $28,350.

Total building value in Esquimalt for the first eight months of 1944 is $47,695, and for the same period in 1943 was $31,375. In August, 1944, seven permits were issued for a total building value of $10,570, of which four were for dwellings. In August, 1943, eight permits were issued at a total value of $7,625, two of the permits being for dwellings.

Light Bill Savings Seen As Arena Fund

A suggestion, privately advanced, that Greater Victorians contribute the money they will save on this year's no-bill period by the B.C. Electric towards construction of a civic arena appeared to have struck a responsive chord here.

F. E. Winslow, acting chairman of the citizens' arena committee, today said the question would be discussed at a meeting of his group next week.

The B.C. Electric declined comment on the matter today.

During last year's non-billing period, citizens of the area saved between $240,000 and $260,000, it was learned. That amount would be sufficient to care for the construction on the basis of costs announced early in the arena campaign.

While the company was not prepared to commit itself today, it was believed the same co-operation would be given a responsible arena committee as has been accorded other groups which have worked on undertakings of community benefit. Red Cross and Victory Loan committees have been highly successful in enlisting such support.

Want Quiz Kids for Milk for Britain

A request that the Quiz Kids be allowed to appear in Victoria on behalf of the Milk for Britain Fund has been sent to their sponsors, Maurice O'Connor, chairman of the Kinsmen Milk for Britain fund committee, said at the meeting of the club Thursday evening in the Empress Hotel.

The children will appear in Seattle Sept. 10 and it is hoped to be able to bring them here for a show for the fund, he said.

Plans are also being laid for the Hallows'een "shell-out" to collect funds for Milk for Britain. Nearly every city across Canada projected the idea whereby the children collect pennies for Milk for Britain instead of candies and apples, he explained, and last year over 1,000,000 quarts of milk for the children of Britain was realized in this campaign.

The club is approaching the Parent-Teacher Association and the Parks Board for permission for the children to collect and plans are being made for entertainment for the children on Hallows'een as a reward, Mr. O'Connor said. Hon. H. G. T. Perry, Minister of Education, has given his approval of the plan.

Mr. O'Connor also said that $3,375 has been collected in milk bottles for the fund through the co-operation of Lower Island dairymen.

Donald D. Forrest, Kinsmen national president for 1944-45, addressed the club and outlined the youth program that will become a national Kinsmen Club project in the postwar years. Mr. Forrest is from Montreal and this was his first address as national president. Representatives from Duncan, Lake Cowichan and Port Alberni Kinsmen Clubs were present.

Mr. Forrest presented seven Victoria Kinsmen with past presidents' pins. They were Walter Miles, Dr. Poyntz, Robert Shanks, Patrick Mulcahy, Herbert Sabiston, Ronald Whittington and Victor Gilbert.

Harold Vincent Moore, who pleaded guilty in city police court today to a charge of dangerous driving, was fined $25 or five days.

Give Empress Hotel Added Attraction

Victoria's Empress Hotel now has another claim to distinction. Its seven parlormaid staff are Canadian-born Chinese girls. Their neat appearance and efficiency as they move among the guests in the lobbies and other public rooms have drawn comments of admiration from travelers from all parts of the world, and in this department of service make the Empress Hotel unique on this continent. Pictured here are the seven, left to right: Nellie Chung, May Eng, Helen Lowe, Violet Chong, head parlormaid, Rose Fong, Lily Lowe and Rose John.

Company Prepared To Join Appeal On Mt. Tolmie Bus Wage

As the B.C. Electric Railway Co. Ltd. voiced readiness to join street railway employees in an appeal against the Regional War Labor Board's directive reducing wages for Mount Tolmie bus drivers, Victoria union president F. Davidson expressed opinion efforts would be made to bring Esquimalt drivers up to full street railway pay scales.

"We had promised we would pay full streetcar rates of pay to Mount Tolmie bus drivers before this directive was received," A. T. Goward, company vice-president, said today. "We are standing by our promise in offering to support the union's appeal."

While the Mount Tolmie issue was the point on which strike action threatened, Mr. Davidson said he expected the union's advisory board to turn down the entire board award on recent negotiations.

"We asked for 65 changes in our agreement. None were given consideration in the award. They were simply brushed aside," he said.

He spoke of Esquimalt's 14 bus drivers, saying: "We are determined to get them on street railway pay schedules. We have waited three years for expiration of the present agreement, and when a new agreement is signed, we are determined the bus drivers will be included."

In New Westminster and Vancouver, he said, men handling buses for the company enjoyed the same rates as did those handling streetcars. A clear case of discrimination existed here, he said.

Hikers to Tackle West Coast Trail Over Week-End

Several experienced hikers said today they were planning to spend the long Labor Day week-end on the trail to Port Renfrew from the end of the present Jordan River road.

Prominence of the west coast road in the news as a result of the decision of various public organizations to get some action on it is responsible for their interest in the area, the hikers said.

It was explained that from the end of the Jordan River road the Defence Department maintains the trail that follows the telegraph lines. For residents of this area, it was said today that permission to make the hike of 12 miles or so to Port Renfrew would be given by the Signals Branch at local army headquarters. It was explained that hikers had to be prepared to camp out.

QUICK ROUND TRIP

Percy Willis of the Sailors and Airmen's Home, Belmont Avenue, who in his days as a preacher for the Shantymen's Mission went through the bush to Port Renfrew without the benefit of trails, has just returned from a 21-hour round trip to Port Renfrew.

He left on St. Princess Norah with the remains of Mrs. J. J. Baird at midnight. Arriving at Port Renfrew he conducted the funeral service at 10.30 and immediately left in a speeder of the Malahat Logging Co. for the head of steel 20 miles inland. From there he walked to the end of the road from Shawnigan Lake, where he was met by motor car and brought to the city, the distance being about 50 miles. These facilities are not available to the average traveler, however.

Mr. Willis says there is a trail into Port Renfrew from Jordan River now but that it can only be traversed by husky men.

Those who have made the trip over the Port Renfrew trail, say it provides a scenic experience as it goes through big timber and along cliffs overlooking the Pacific which boasts in below them and stretches out northward to infinity from Cape Flattery.

In Saanich court Thursday one motorist was fined $5 for speeding and a second $5 for failing to stop at a stop sign.

Port of Entry Urged for Victoria

Proposal that Victoria be established as an official port of entry or free port, for western Canada, was urged at last night's meeting of the Unemployment Advisory Committee, Federal Selective Service, under Chairman H. L. Smith.

After being advised of the opposition of certain experts to the proposed breakwater for the outer harbor, the committee decided that the whole scheme as put forward by breakwater advocates be examined from fresh angles and more information obtained.

Possibility of postwar employment arising out of expansion of municipal services, particularly in educational, transportation and water system fields, was considered. Speakers agreed that unification of the four separate municipalities of Greater Victoria would be necessary before any sizeable program of reconstruction could be brought into effect.

Labor Shortage More Critical

There is a heavy demand for almost all types of male labor, except clerical, and for women to work in laundries, C. A. Mudge, manager of National Selective Service here, said today.

There are jobs available for 847 men, Mr. Mudge said, an increase of 69 over last week. During the week 137 men were placed in jobs, and 61 have been sent out on referral, but no confirmation has yet been received as to their employment.

There are 201 men on file at Selective Service, but, unfortunately, Mr. Mudge said the majority of them are clerical workers, for whom there is no demand.

The situation is most serious with regard to coal delivery men, he said, and the same condition has prevailed now for a matter of three weeks without any signs of it alleviating. The demand for carpenters and construction laborers remains heavy.

In addition, there is an increased demand for iron workers, riveters and caulkers for the shipyards. These are all jobs too heavy for women to undertake, and there is no demand for women to work in the shipyards.

Demands for workers in the logging camps and sawmills remain heavy, and in particular male cooks are needed for the camps. General mechanics for the automotive trade are also needed.

There is an increase of 92 in orders for women during the past week. Today there are 472 vacant jobs for women, and 352 women registered for employment. Of these, 112 are on referral to jobs, and during the week another 150 were placed in employment.

Mr. Mudge made an appeal to women to take laundry work, because it is one of the essential industries, and also one that is having the most difficulty in getting sufficient labor. There is also a heavy demand for waitresses that he is unable to fill at the present time.

Mrs. James Key, 78, Dies In Ruskin

Mrs. Mary Grant Key, 78, widow of James Key, for many years with the Canadian Immigration Department here and prior to that connected with the famous old Dallas Hotel, is dead in Ruskin, B.C., where she went to stay with her son and daughter after Mr. Key's death some years ago.

Mrs. Key was widely known in the Victoria West district, where the family had its home for many years and at Prospect Lake, where they had a summer home.

The funeral will be held in Mission.

Canadians Must Play Empire Part In Peace—Maitland

TORONTO—Canadians must ever be on their guard to maintain and defend their freedom, so dearly bought and so dearly held, Hon. R. L. Maitland, K.C., Attorney-General of British Columbia, told the annual meeting of the Canadian Bar Association, of which he is president.

"We are a people who believe in freedom—freedom of choice, freedom of opportunity—that freedom which inspires the effort which is winning the war," Mr. Maitland said.

The Attorney-General said Canadians must strive to see that the British Empire contributes all its strength and power to bring about a guarantee of freedom.

FULL UNITY NEEDED

"If we are to do this, then our Empire must be united, and each part of our Empire must be united in such a determination," Mr. Maitland said. "The voice of a city, or town, or village comes from the individuals, and from these cities, towns and villages comes the voice of the province, and from these provinces the voice of the Dominion. And it is by the voice of the Dominions that the Empire speaks."

"It is not a question of autonomy or fine distinctions between the powers of the various Dominions within our Empire that should arise in reaching this goal. It is a question of the people believing in and working for such a thing."

From here Mr. Maitland, who is accompanied by his wife, will go to Chicago to attend the annual meeting of the American Bar Association. He will return to Victoria in mid-September.

MEXICO CITY (AP)—British negotiations to use Mexican airports were said today by military authorities to be under way here in an effort to facilitate the flight of Canadian planes to the Pacific in the expected eventual intensification of the war against Japan.

Edward G. Robinson Featured at Atlas

Edward G. Robinson, Lynn Bari and featured player Victor McLaglen are seen in the 20th Century-Fox production, "Tampico," which is now being shown at the Atlas Theatre. This is a thrilling story of the unsung heroes of the oil tankers; men who face the perils of fire and water, in order the life blood of gas and oil reaches our fighting men overseas. Robinson, as Capt. Bart Manson, skipper of the tanker Calhoun, gives one of his most masterful performances, while Lynn Bari as "Kathie Hall," provides one of the most thrilling screen portrayals of the year.

The impressive supporting cast of the film, which was directed by Luchino Visconti and produced by Robert Bassler includes Robert Bailey, Marc Lawrence, E. J. Ballantine, Mona Maris and Tonio Sewart.

Headline Action In Dominion Film

Action right out of the headlines is featured in 20th Century-Fox's "Roger Touhy, Gangster," the new film at the Dominion Theatre. With Preston Foster, Victor McLaglen, Lois Andrews and Kent Taylor topping the cast, the film shows accurately Touhy's daring escape from Joliet Prison and the capture which climaxed one of the greatest manhunts in history.

CAPITOL THEATRE

Paramount's "And the Angels Sing" is a breezy musical comedy which moviegoers found very much to their liking today at the Capitol Theatre. Featuring Dorothy Lamour, Betty Hutton and Fred MacMurray, the film tells the story of four pretty Angel sisters who meet up with conniving band-leader MacMurray.

The two members of the sister quartette—Betty Hutton and Diana Lynn, a particularly potent pair of female charmers. Singing is not the girls' idea of earning a living, but MacMurray changes their minds after borrowing their savings and then doing a disappearing act.

Other great stars to appear are, Nathan Milstein, world renowned violinist; Richard Crooks, beloved tenor of the Metropolitan Opera; Alexander Kipnis, bass baritone, Metropolitan Opera; Luboshutz and Nemenoff, spectacular two-piano team; Mischel and Jan Cherniavsky, distinguished cellist and pianist, and the New York City Centre Opera Company, in a lavish production of Johann Strauss' immortal masterpiece, "The Gypsy Baron." Box office now open in Fletcher's Music Store.

"Night Plane From Chungking," currently at the Rio Theatre, is a strange tale of romance and adventure with two Americans, an airplane pilot and a Red Cross nurse as the principal actors.

OAK BAY AND PLAZA THEATRE

"The Woman of the Town," the Harry Sherman production now at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres through United Artists' release, tells the true-life story of "Bat" Masterson, one-time sports editor of the N.Y. Morning Telegraph. It is interesting to note that Louella Parsons, nationally syndicated columnist, served on the same newspaper as did Masterson in the second decade of the 1900's. She was a friend of his and loved sports and pugilism as much as he did.

She tells accounts of Masterson's predictions revealing it was he who prophesied that women would be attending boxing matches en masse. She also discloses Masterson prevented her from betting $50 on the Dempsey-Willard fight, "because she was a lady."

Your Garden . . . .

Cecil Solly's Garden Notebook

LETTUCE

AFTER checking over the many new and old varieties of lettuce again this year, it is definitely evident that for the Victory backyard gardens these sorts are outstanding: Great Lakes, Cosberg, Mignonette and Oak Leaf.

All four of these should be grown in every garden. Now is the time to plant the seeds for a "fresh" fall crop which will last from late September until frost.

ONION CARE

Should any of the onion stems show early signs of forming a flower or seed head, they should be bent over (being careful not to break them) about three inches from the top of the bulb.

About the middle of September, all the tops that have fallen over should be gently bent down, and if growth still continues, the soil under the bulbs should be slightly raised with a fork, to disturb the roots and check growth for ripening.

Be sure that the onions rest right on top of the soil. The soil should be carefully removed from the sides of the bulb so that all of it is above the ground. This will assist the ripening process and the onions will store better.

"KEEPING ONIONS"

Should you ever have trouble with onions not keeping well in storage, even though you have provided the perfect conditions described above, it must be remembered that some varieties are naturally better for storage than others.

The ones which never keep well are the white-skinned ones like White Bermuda and White Portugal. Moderately good keepers are the pale yellow skinned ones such as Tendersweet Sweet Spanish. These varieties are the ones which we buy from the stores as plants in the spring.

Best varieties for storage here are the Danvers, Ailsa Craig, Red Wethersfield. The Danvers is the best one of all and one is recommended to sow some seed of this variety in a bed now to provide an ample supply of plants for transplanting next spring, just in case the supply of "sets" is short in 1945.

NO ONIONS?

Many gardeners find that although they enjoy them, onions do not agree with them. Leeks and chives, however, do not usually have this unfortunate effect and should be grown in every garden.

Another good reason for planting leeks in every garden here is that growing onions means a continual battle against worms, blight and other troubles. But with leeks—provided they get good garden soil, plenty of water and reasonable care (less than for onions) the leeks are definitely the "onion" for "no trouble."

HARVESTING ONIONS

When onions are dug for storage they should be lifted carefully by thrusting a fork under each bulb and "heaving" it. This will disrupt the root action and commence the necessary drying process. About three days later, they should be pulled and laid out in the open for a few days on boards or some convenient material so that they will dry off while not touching the soil. If rain threatens, they should be brought in at once.

When harvesting, it is important to dry the bulbs thoroughly; in the sun, if possible.

MORE ABOUT YOUR TOMATOES

If your tomato plants are only medium in size now, remember that the same number of plants, if they were big and sturdy would take up no more space, but produce five times the crop.

We were privileged a few weeks ago to have a visit from Norvell Gillespie, who is NBC's Victory Garden Director and Garden Editor of the San Francisco Chronicle besides being Regional Director of the National Victory Garden Institute on the coast.

Norvell is one of the several who are at present devoting all their energies to the production of more home-grown food.

"One of the most important jobs that every Victory gardener should do at once," says Gillespie, "is to plant a fall garden by filling up every row with suitable plants as soon as it becomes vacant." (The subject of fall planting has been included in my articles throughout this month.)

Gillespie also put special emphasis on the fact that "tomatoes should be given every care this year because we civilians are going to get less of the supply we got last year." I am mentioning this last remark again in case you haven't heard it already.

Here in an interesting note from a reader on this subject: "I've one report to make that RETIREES—After service with the Dominion government as a veterinary inspector since 1905, Dr. Williamson Frank, above, known to friends throughout the province as "Doc," has retired. He served for 15 years in the Kootenay district, later in Vancouver and since 1938 in Victoria. His duties took him all over the province. As a boy he was a friend of the late John Blair, landscape gardener who laid out Beacon Hill Park, and recalls he helped Mr. Blair plant the first broom in the park and the first Persian plum in Victoria. Growing roses is now his hobby at his home, 1712 Hollywood Crescent.

might interest your very new gardeners. Feeling too new at the work, I hesitated to prune or trim my tomatoes. I had put out Break O' Day tomatoes on April 25 after preparing large, deep holes with chicken manure, humus, copper dust, green fertilizer and top dirt. I covered them from cold but kept sides of the cover removable to let in air and sun. And so they grew and grew.

"I tied them up" each day, but the next morning they seemed to have added another foot of growth and finally I added taller stakes. Every leaf branch had its corresponding flower branch and they must have had the right thing for they all set fruit. But they were getting beyond me and were growing much too large.

"Several days ago I decided to be boss in my garden. I went forth armed with more old strips of cloth and my pruners. I pulled up and tied the branches, pruned severely and brought them into more modest bounds. . . still each day I seemed to have more branches to tie up.

"But this pruning has resulted in rapid increase of the size of the fruit now set. I think I've learned not to be afraid to prune or to pull up and tie. I had snapped off one branch and was a bit fearful to pull them around for fear of breaking more. Beginners should take the chance of a little breakage instead of allowing themselves to be governed by their plants."

Dairy Farmer Fights Son's Army Call-Up

"He has been wanting to go since the beginning of the war," said F. A. Rudd, dairyman, as he told Magistrate Hall in Saanich police court Thursday when his son, F. M. Rudd, faced a charge of failing to report for military training. The father said there was only his son and two daughters to help him run what he said was the second largest dairy farm on Vancouver Island.

If his son had to go, said Mr. Rudd, he would have to sell his farm. He had written to the registrar in Vancouver explaining the situation, and asking that a letter be sent to him if his son was to be called up, so that he might make the necessary arrangements for sale of his farm. There had been no reply, he said.

Mr. Rudd said there were 150 gallons of milk delivered from his dairy farm daily. All his family worked from early in the morning until as late as 1 the next morning, and he could get no additional help to carry on the farm.

Magistrate Hall, having heard the father, said that before passing sentence, which would send the son to St. Canadian Coast and A.A. Artillery School, Esquimalt, he would remand the case for one week to see if anything could be done to solve the problem.

Claude Harrison, city prosecutor, said he would write to the registrar in an effort to clear up the situation.

During the hearing, the magistrate explained the father's statement could have no bearing on the case, but he would allow

Amateur Gardener

By E.L.F.

IN most backyard gardens potato harvesting is due to start any time now. This does not mean, of course, that any and every variety can be lifted right away. Some varieties are naturally a little later in reaching maturity than others.

The crop itself shows when it is ready for harvesting. The tops yellow and begin to die off, from the bottom upward. A further test is to pick a few sample tubers and give them a squeeze between finger and thumb. If the skin does not break and peel off easily, they are ready. Should the skin rub off as early potatoes do when lifted, the crop must be left in the ground for a few more days until the skins come through the test unblemished, otherwise the potatoes will not keep well in storage.

CUT TOP GROWTH

Choose a fine, dry day for the harvest and arm yourself with a good, strong fork. Should there be very heavy top growth, cut it off before you attempt to lift. Then you can see clearly where each plant is and there will be less chance of stabbing the tubers.

Start at one end of the first row to be cleared. Get astride the ridge, with your back to the way you intend to work down the row. Press the fork into the ground midway between the first and second plant, work it well under, and ease up. Grasp the stubs of the top stems and shake off the tubers. Fork over the spot again to make sure you get any potatoes left behind the first time. Step back down the row and start on the second hill. Carry on in this way and you will get the work done quickly, cleanly and without damage. Working along the row is better than striking in at the sides; fewer potatoes are left behind.

As digging proceeds, the potatoes should be laid out so air and wind can sweat them and get rid of superfluous sap. In fact, the whole crop should be spread out for a couple of days or more in a cool shed or basement before permanent storage. Unless this drying is done you are very likely to find the potatoes sweating in storage and that will start decay.

Not all potatoes are suitable for storing. The very small ones, for instance, are not worth putting away. They do make excellent chicken feed, so perhaps you can pass them on to someone who can use them. Then, there are the scabby potatoes and the ones with other signs of skin disease. Naturally they will not keep well, so you must separate them from the rest of the crop and use them up first.

STORAGE QUARTERS

With this work done, and when the potatoes are quite dry, get them into their permanent winter storage quarters—in a shed or a basement that is darkish, dry, airy and frostproof. Use the middle of the floor or an inner wall if possible. Store in bags, boxes, or in one large heap. If you adopt the latter method, cover the pile with a single layer of sacks, or a four-inch layer of clean straw.

Amateurs sometimes wonder whether their potatoes should have some form of preservative mixed with them when they are being stored. Actually, if you lift at the right time, and in the right way, and sort out diseased tubers before storing, the potatoes should keep well without using a preservative. Should you have some agricultural lime on hand, however, it is a good idea to sprinkle a small quantity among the tubers—no more than seven ounces to an approximate 100 pounds of potatoes. It helps in keeping down rot.

it to go on record. Apart from the actual charge, the matter was beyond his jurisdiction, the magistrate said.

Noel Kelly Back From Visit Overseas

British Columbia is the most Red Cross-conscious province in the Dominion of Canada, J. Noel Kelly, national publicity director of the Canadian Red Cross Society, in Victoria on a brief visit, said Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Kelly, who is in charge of all publicity for Canada and overseas, established a publicity section in England last September, returning to Canada three months later on a Canadian destroyer. He spoke highly of the work of V. A. McAdam, and described the United Nations' Canteen, which has been set up in the basement of B.C. House, and is staffed by Red Cross girls. The canteen is open to all United Nations services.

"There are 400 Red Cross girls from Canada overseas now, and a number are from British Columbia," he said. "One girl from Sidney and one from Victoria are with a small group now in France, attached to military field hospitals."

The Canadian Red Cross Society published the only weekly newspaper for the prisoners-of-war, according to Mr. Kelly. The news is cabled every week to Geneva, where it is set up in type and printed, and then sent on to prisoners-of-war camps.

While overseas, Mr. Kelly flew to Belfast in an American paratroop plane. He visited also his home on the Isle of Man, where British fascists and members of the outlawed Irish Republican Army, which have been rounded-up, are interned.

Mr. Kelly, who visited the Maritimes before coming westward, left Victoria today for Seattle, and will return to Vancouver and then tour the provinces of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

Geo. L. Hopkins Dead, Lived in Saskatchewan

George Lionel Hopkins, native of London and former provincial auditor of Saskatchewan, who died at 3029 Uplands Road Wednesday, will be buried tomorrow.

Since his retirement eight years ago Mr. Hopkins had lived in Victoria.

Before he came to Canada Mr. Hopkins served at the British Admiralty under the famous Admiral "Jacky" Fisher. He was a noted athlete in his youth and ran with the Blackheath Harriers. At one time he was joint holder of the world's 100-mile tandem bicycle record.

When he first came to Canada, Mr. Hopkins farmed in Saskatchewan with his three brothers. He had been provincial auditor of his adopted province for 23 years.

Prominent in Masonic circles, he had been worshipful master of Wascana Lodge in Regina and was active in Scottish Rite attaining 32nd degree and was also a Shriner. He also served as grand patron of the Order of the Eastern Star in Saskatchewan.

Since he came to Victoria Mr. Hopkins joined the Arion Club and had been a faithful member.

RECORD FIELD

TORONTO (CP)—Nineteen candidates have been named for the Standard Bred Society Futurity for three-year-olds—Canada's richest harness horse race—it was announced Wednesday. This year's Futurity will be held at Stratford, Ont., Labor Day, Sept. 4, and the purse will be $6,000—$3,000 for pacers and $3,000 for trotters.

The fields of nine trotters and 10 pacers are the largest in both divisions in many years. The sole western Canada entry is Mr. Lee, bay gelding owned by A. D. Harrison of Brandon, Man. he will run in the three-year-old Futurity pace.

Housing Registry Places 900 in August

More than 900 persons were placed in houses, rooms or apartments through the National Housing Registry during August, Mrs. W. E. Rayfuse stated today.

By placing families who had received notice to vacate before eviction proceedings became possible, the Housing Registry was able to keep anyone from being evicted during the past month, she said. In some instances, through co-operation with landlords, it was possible to make arrangements for tenants to remain.

Mrs. Rayfuse said that she had noticed an increasing tendency on the part of landlords to accept couples with one or two children. Larger families, however, are still difficult to place.

Since its inception almost two years ago the National Housing Registry has been instrumental in placing 15,400 persons here.

Milk IS NOT ELASTIC

Milk is our most valuable food. It must provide us with milk to drink, with butter, cheese, evaporated and concentrated milk and a score of other products.

Canadian farmers have done a magnificent job. They have increased

WHAT HAPPENS TO ALL THIS MILK?

In spite of greater production, the demand for milk and milk products has risen even more, because—

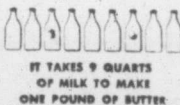

- (a) There's more money to spend;
- (b) More people are working, with changed food habits and increased food needs;

(c) Our Armed Forces and Allies make heavy demands.

It has therefore been necessary—by rationing, by subsidies, by careful planning and by other controls—to divert our milk supply into channels most suited to our various food needs.

FLUID MILK TAKES 35% OF OUR MILK

Because fluid milk is regarded by nutritionists as the most nearly perfect food, nothing has been allowed to interfere with its sale. Today, Canadians are drinking more milk—and a greater percentage of our milk supply is being consumed as fluid milk—than ever before. Fluid milk has the right of way, but don't waste a drop of it.

BUTTER TAKES 48% OF OUR MILK

In the first three years of war, our butter consumption increased 10.9%. So, rationing was established to prevent too much milk going into butter, at the expense of other important milk products, and to insure a fair share to everyone.

The rationing of butter was influenced by the fact that it has less nutritive value than some other milk products, and because we get a generous supply of fats or their food equivalent in other forms.

To maintain a proper balance of consumption between various milk products and to ensure that butter is put into storage for winter use—when production drops—it is necessary to reduce the ration from time to time.

CHEESE TAKES 10% OF OUR MILK

Canada's annual cheese production has gone up by about 37 million pounds since the war.

Cheese is a concentrated food product—easily shipped and stored. That is one reason why we send large quantities to Great Britain to help meet its pressing food needs. While in the last year we exported four of every five pounds of cheese we made, our production has been so increased that we have left for domestic use about three million pounds a year more than before the war.

EVAPORATED MILK TAKES 6% OF OUR MILK

More than twice as much (152 million lbs.) was used by Canadians this last year as in 1938 (74 million lbs.). And yet, there has not been enough.

Where has it all gone? It's an important food for babies—and there are 50,000 more of them a year. Larger quantities have gone to areas where fresh milk is not available. Armed Services have added new demands. In spite of this, our exports of evaporated milk to Great Britain, Newfoundland and the West Indies, etc., are maintained at pre-war level.

ICE CREAM AND OTHER MILK PRODUCTS TAKE ABOUT 1 1/2% OF OUR MILK

The manufacture of ice cream is restricted to the 1941 level because milk is needed for other purposes. Milk Powder and Condensed Milk are taking more milk. Milk sugar is used in the manufacture of Penicillin and for other wartime purposes. Casein (a milk by-product) is used in making glue for aeroplanes.

Final Burst of Sniping Marks Paris Liberation

Taking refuge behind cars, members of the French Forces of the Interior return the fire of German snipers who fired on the crowd assembled in the area of Notre Dame Cathedral. The snipers tried to kill Gen. de Gaulle near here.

Paris civilians duck for cover as Nazi snipers open up.

Gen. de Gaulle is pictured leading a unit of parade through the Arc de Triomphe. It was a rough, noisy day, but Paris put on its biggest spontaneous show to cheer De Gaulle and its liberation. Every available window was taken in order to get a glimpse of the famous French warrior.

Food Picture Good, Minerals Tight, Clothes Reasonable

Canada's food picture is encouraging. The situation, regarding metals and goods manufactured from them shows scant signs of rapid improvement. Discretion will be required in purchase of clothing. Donald Gordon, chairman of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, said over CBR national network Thursday night.

"You should know," Mr. Gordon said, "that our civilian supply situation shows no signs of rapid improvement. In the metals field the requirements of war are such that little material is yet freely available for civilian production. Some aluminum may shortly be released, but on the whole we cannot expect much immediate improvement as war production is still at a high rate. We are making a few washing machines, some stoves and electric irons and a few other household appliances, but it will be some time yet before this production reaches any sizeable volume."

"On the other hand, the food picture is encouraging. Canadian farmers have done a magnificent job in stepping up their production and this has been reflected, to use one example, in the case of meat. We do not expect to have to return to rationing of meat—unless unforeseen overseas demand develops and shipping becomes available to carry it. In the case of milk, however, the supply produced is not sufficient to meet all the heavy demands for butter, cheese, fluid milk and other milk products. Our production in Canada is planned at its top limit, but recent dry and hot weather may so affect pastures in eastern Canada that the production we had looked for will not materialize. But, by and large, our food supply is abundant and no one need worry about any general shortage in that field."

Canada Will Open Paris Legation Soon

OTTAWA (CP)—Early reopening of the Canadian Legation in Paris is anticipated by External Affairs Department officials today, although they have no information as to whether Maj. Gen. Georges Vanier, Canadian representative to the free governments of six occupied countries, actually is en route to the French capital.

Gen. Vanier recently has been stationed at Algiers and it was understood that arrangements were being made for him to move to Paris, where it was considered probable he would eventually have the post of ambassador to France.

Ottawa authorities said reports had been published that the Canadian flag already had been hung out on the Paris building formerly occupied by the Canadian Legation.

Russ Lumber, Pulp May Hit B.C. Prices

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mr. Justice Gordon Sloan, presiding at the forest inquiry here Thursday, expressing the opinion the entrance of Russia into the world's lumber and pulp markets in the postwar years might lower price levels and thus defer the opening up of timber areas now inaccessible to operation.

H. S. Foley, president of the Powell River Co., differed with Commissioner Sloan on this point, stating world prices would be only one factor in the situation. The dominant factor in the drive through to hitherto inaccessible regions was the constant necessity facing operations to reach out into other grounds and farther areas for more timber in order to keep in operation.

Mechanical improvements in equipment, stemming from experiments on machinery of war, would have a pronounced effect on logging methods, Mr. Foley said.

The commission queried Mr. Foley whether operators would carry on at a loss if improved equipment and technological methods resulted in higher costs. Mr. Foley countered that newsprint had been produced on this coast for years at a loss to the operators.

Commissioner Sloan remarked this loss was no doubt made up by profits on products manufactured in other branches of the lumber industry.

Found Shot Dead

John Watts Phillips, mill owner at Prince George, B.C., was found dead beside his truck Friday on the logging road leading to his mill, provincial police headquarters here reported.

There was a bullet wound through his back shoulder blade, coming out over the heart, the report said.

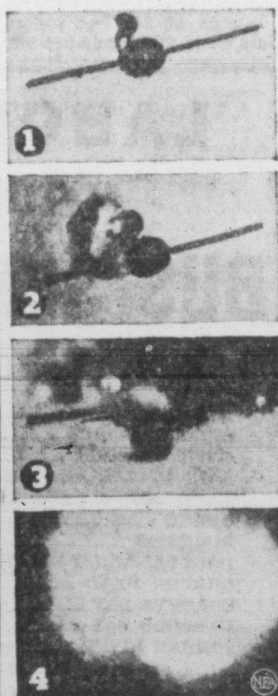

The shooting took place within 15 minutes of the body being found, and from preliminary examination, police said, it was suspected Watts might have been pulling his gun out from his cab when it went off and killed him.

Buzz-Bomb's End

Taken by the automatic camera on an Allied fighter plane which blasted a German robot bomb in mid-air over England, the pictures above tell a serial story of one buzz-bomb that failed in its mission. Photo shows (1) robot bomb in four-mile-a-minute flight; (2) hit, it slows down, starts to spout smoke and flame; (3) black smoke envelopes it as fire spreads; (4) fire reaches explosive warhead. With terrific blast, bomb bursts—harmlessly.

Drama . . .

LITTLE THEATRE SEASON Good news for Victoria theatre-lovers is the announcement that the Victoria Little Theatre and Dramatic School is to open its 1944-45 season.

While the first production, a program of one-act plays, is scheduled for the latter part of September, new members are being welcomed now. It is hoped, through an increased membership roll, to widen the possibilities and still further improve the facilities of the theatre.

Anyone who is interested in any phase of the work is invited to phone the secretary, Mrs. Audrey St. Denys Johnson, E 3170 (evenings), or the treasurer, H. J. S. Reynolds, E 1131.

Artists, carpenters, electricians, designers, will find a welcome. The theatre is situated at Langham Court, off Rockland Avenue, between Moss and Linden, two blocks from Fort and Cook Street cars. Work has been going on there all summer and visitors will find it uniquely attractive, and with first-rate facilities for work and play.

In addition to the major productions, a series of play-readings will be given, affording opportunity to many newcomers and those not ready for roles in full productions. Classes will be held during the winter in diction, acting technique, make-up and scene-painting, as desired.

At the beginning of October an open house evening will be held, welcoming new members and making them acquainted with their theatre and their fellow members. November will see the production of the play by John Patrick, "The Willow and I," an
